ONE SUSTAINABLE HEALTH by all 2026

November 18–19, 2026 • Bengaluru, India

One Planet. One Health. One Future.

A global platform bringing together science, technology, policy, industry and communities to advance One Sustainable Health by all through innovation, AI, data, collaboration and real-world action.

Conference website: www.icwar.iisc.ac.in/osh-by-all

WHY ONE SUSTAINABLE HEALTH?

Health challenges are interconnected and need integrated solutions beyond traditional healthcare. One Sustainable Health by all (OSH) brings four dimensions of health together through science, technology, policy and innovation, creating resilient ecosystems for future generations.

Human Health | Animal Health | Plant Health | Environmental Health

- Integrates human, animal, plant and environmental health
- Addresses climate change, AMR and health threats
- Harnesses AI, digital innovation and data-driven solutions
- Connects science, policy, industry and communities

Hosted at the Indian Institute of Science
